

THE REWILDING NETWORK

Supporting and connecting
rewilders across Britain

REWILDING BRITAIN

REWILDING TOGETHER

Rewilding is no longer a niche idea. It's a practical strategy for our land and seas, benefiting both people and nature.

Through the Rewilding Network, we're uniting the practitioners delivering this change across Britain – proving that we can prosper within flourishing ecosystems in the face of the nature and climate crises.

We know that turning a rewilding vision into reality can be complex, but you don't have to navigate funding, legislation, or scaling up alone. Joining connects you to a community of shared experience, practical insights, and peer support.

Membership is free. Join us and move from ideas to impact.

WHAT OUR MEMBERS SAY

"The Network has been such a support for us as we started out on our journey. The in-person events are a fantastic way to link with others across Britain."

Jenny Barlow, Estate Manager,
The Langholm Initiative

"The Network is an excellent way to communicate with fellow rewilders and find out about the diverse array of projects and events taking place all over Britain."

Matt Phelps, Ecologist,
Knepp Estate

"It's brilliant being part of the Network and having passionate, knowledgeable people there to support you."

Cain Scrimgeour, Wild Intrigue,
Wild Ouseburn

WHAT IS THE REWILDING NETWORK?

Established by Rewilding Britain, the Network is a growing community of over 1,000 practitioners redefining how we restore and protect nature – on land and at sea.

People just like you are key to delivering this change at scale.

SUPPORT DESIGNED FOR SCALE

The Rewilding Network supports practitioners managing land and sea at scale across Britain. We connect over 250 large-scale projects and hundreds of smaller rewilding projects, meaning you no longer work alone. By joining this thriving community, you can navigate complex legal and policy guidance, access funding and learn from peers across Britain and Europe.

The movement is growing. Will you be part of it?

IS THE REWILDING NETWORK RIGHT FOR YOU?

The Rewilding Network is an opportunity to be part of something bigger.

Joining connects you to rewilding practitioners from across the three nations. Together, we're delivering large-scale landscape and seascape recovery, creating new nature-based enterprises and learning together to deliver rewilding across Britain.

WHO WE SUPPORT:

Landowners

Supporting nature's recovery and looking for resilient financial models.

Marine practitioners

Restoring our coastal and ocean ecosystems.

Farmers

Looking to diversify or transition to rewilding practices.

Site managers

Stewarding woodlands, wetlands or moorlands.

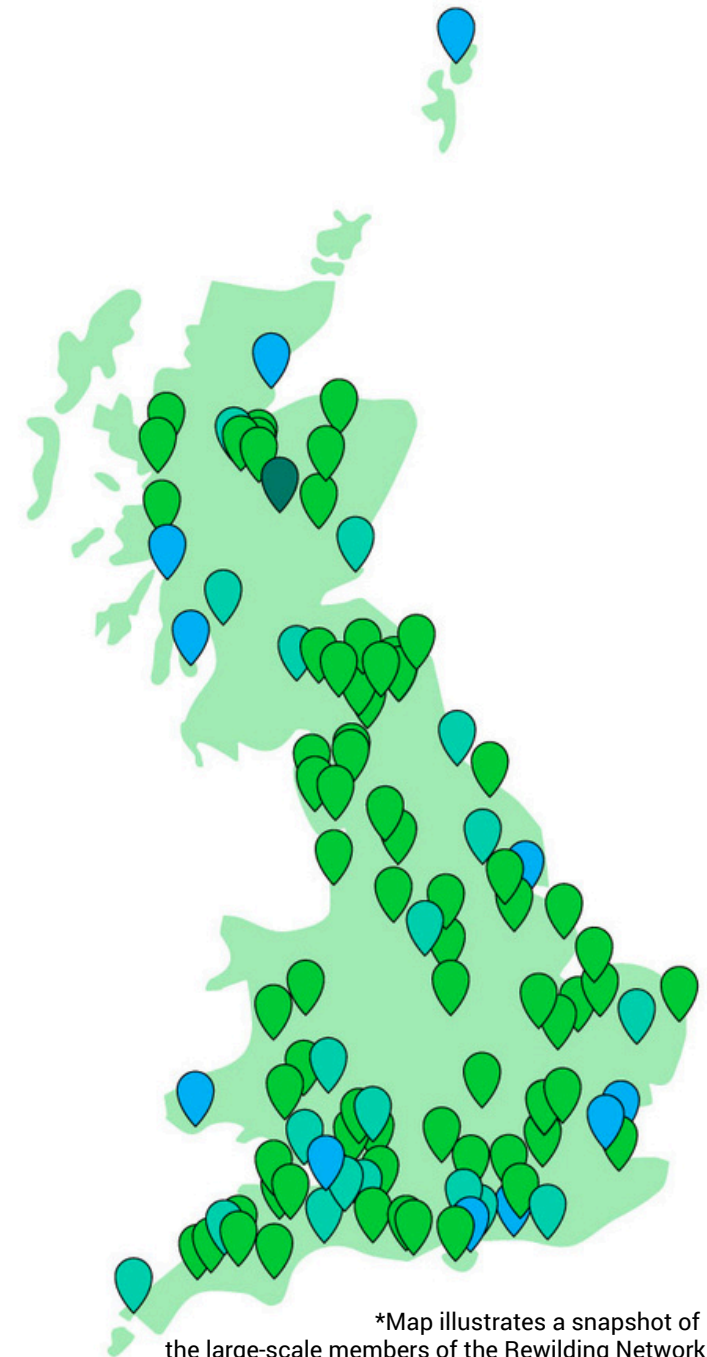

Conservation professionals

Seeking to evolve their approach to nature recovery.

Community groups

Rewilding local spaces at scale.

WE'RE HERE TO SUPPORT YOU

Get the support you need to rewild – from specialist know-how to potential funding – and join a national movement driving nature's recovery. And all of this for free.

PRACTICAL SUPPORT AND FUNDING

Bridge the gap between vision and implementation with technical expertise and opportunities for funding.

Access to funding

Apply for the Rewilding Innovation Fund and Rewilding Challenge Fund.

Online resources

Navigate practical issues with live webinars and guides, covering everything from monitoring to legislation to reintroductions.

Rewilding Britain expertise

Get direct access to the Rewilding Britain team to draw on their technical knowledge and strategic advice.

KNOWLEDGE EXCHANGE AND CONNECTION

Draw on the collective experience of the Network.

Peer-to-peer learning and support

Connect directly with other practitioners to share insights, troubleshoot challenges and compare what's working.

In-person visits and events

Join knowledge exchange visits, monthly webinars and an annual Network Gathering hosted at locations across Britain.

Policy development and research insights

Stay ahead of the curve with updates on key developments and research from Britain's three nations as well as Europe.

INFLUENCE AND VISIBILITY

Be part of something bigger and help shape the future of nature recovery.

Build the evidence base together

By sharing monitoring data, you can help create a clearer picture of how rewilding benefits nature and people.

Amplify your voice

Connect with ministers and key contacts, and feed into national advocacy and policy initiatives.

Inspire others

Your story is unique – sharing it can inspire others and spark ideas for people across Britain and beyond.

SUPPORTING INNOVATION

As a member you gain access to our funding streams. From species reintroduction to cutting-edge technology and community engagement, we're supporting innovative approaches to rewilding.

FEASIBILITY, SPECIES AND ENGAGEMENT

The Missing Lynx project

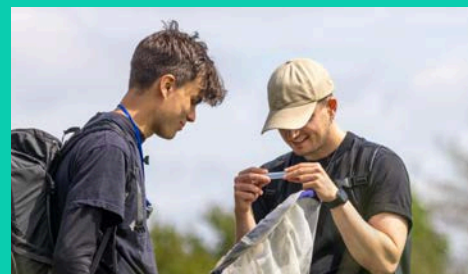

With our support, this project has been able to take the Missing Lynx Exhibition to schools and universities in northeast England and southern Scotland, inspiring the next generation to explore the vital role this apex predator could play in our landscapes.

MARINE PLANNING AND COMMUNITY

Arran's seas

Our funding helped the Community of Arran Seabed Trust create Scotland's first community-led marine blueprint. This seascape-scale plan, which uses biodiversity and social impact data, shows that coastal communities can lead the way in protecting our seas.

SKILLS AND CAPACITY

Training for the future (Wales)

Innovation funding has enabled a Welsh training programme for the next generation of land managers. By connecting young people with experts to learn specialist restoration skills, the project is directly increasing capacity for local nature recovery.

TECHNOLOGY AND VISUALISATION

Devon Rewilding Network

We funded this county-level network to develop an innovative, AI-powered approach for landowner engagement. They're using drone footage to show how rewilding could better connect land, helping local landowners visualise the tangible potential of rewilding.

WHO'S BEHIND THE REWILDING NETWORK?

ABOUT REWILDING BRITAIN

The Rewilding Network was set up by Rewilding Britain, the charity that's been at the forefront of rewilding's growth over the past decade. Our vision is to see rewilding flourishing across Britain, reconnecting us with the natural world, sustaining communities and tackling the climate and ecological crises.

We believe that real change can only happen when public thinking shifts, power is influenced, and rewilding becomes embedded in everyday practice. That's why we want to see a growing and diverse network of rewilding practitioners driving innovation, sharing learning, and demonstrating the potential and viability of rewilding, creating ecological connectivity across land and seas.

OUR EXPERTISE AND CONNECTIONS

The Rewilding Network is led by a dedicated team of specialists bringing experience from a wide range of fields, from rewilding interventions and species reintroductions to community engagement, research and marine rewilding. As a member you'll get direct access to this expertise.

With Rewilding Britain's wider team working across issues from political advocacy to fundraising to campaigning, you'll have frequent opportunities to tell your story and help push for more rewilding across Britain.

We also work closely with a range of partners and allies, including NGOs, farming and marine networks, businesses, local councils and public bodies, so you'll be tapping into an organisation that's well-connected and is driving real change for rewilding.
